RIVER BASINS FOR WATER RESOURCES PLANNING AND INTERBASIN TRANSFER DETERMINATION

This delineation of the river basins adopted by the Water Resources Commission in April 1985, was published as part of the Interbasin Transfer Regulations, effective July 11, 1985.

Massachusetts Water Supply Agencies: Addresses and Contacts

INTRODUCTION

The Water Resources Management Planning Regulations 313 CMR 2.00 were adopted by the Massachusetts Water Resources Commission in 1979 to establish a framework for the development of a statewide water resource management plans. The regulations provide for a planning process in which each of the 27 river basins of the Commonwealth is based on local, regional and state assessments of water needs and water resources. The Division of Water Resources, on behalf of the Water Resources Commission, is carrying out this planning process.

This report is a product of the information collected from local water supply agencies during the inventory and analysis stage of the planning process.

SOURCES OF INFORMATION

The water supply agency information contained in this report was originally obtained from the "Outline of Water Supply Element" submitted by the state's 363 central water supply systems to the Massachusetts Water Resources Commission and the and the Municipal Water Resources Management Plan - Phase II questionnaire. That information was refined with input from the Division of Water Supply (DEP), the Metropolitan District Commission, the Department of Public Utilities, the Regional Planning agencies, and follow-up discussions with the individual water supply managers.

Further refinements for the 1989 edition of this report were made based on information obtained from the DEP "Public Water Supply Statistics" sheets and from continuing contacts with water supply superintendents.

REPORT FORMAT

The information is arranged by towns within river basins. Each of the 351 cities and towns in the Commonwealth was assigned to one of the 27 river basins or one of the four sub-basins in the Boston Harbor Basin established by the Massachusetts Water Resources Commission for water planning purposes. The boundaries of the river basins are based on hydrological considerations (watershed boundaries) and thus do not coincide with city and town boundaries (see attached river basin map). This can result in one town having land in two or even three basins. Communities were assigned to the river basin containing the largest percentage of the town's acreage.

READER FEEDBACK IS ENCOURAGED

One of the goals of the River Basin Planning Program is to compile accurate water resource data and to keep this information up-to-date. The information contained in this report is current to June, 1989. Please submit suggestions for updating the information to:

The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority

The Massachusetts Water Resources Authority (MWRA) delivers and distributes water to 46 communities, primarily in the Boston metropolitan area. The MWRA, which was established in 1984 by the Legislature, receives water from the Metropolitan District Commission's (MDC) Quabbin and Wachusett Reservoirs.

MWRA fully supplies 30 communities. These communities are:

Arlington	Clinton	Medford	Quincy	Stoneham
Belmont	Everett	Melrose	Revere	Swampscott
Boston	Lexington	Milton	Saugus	Waltham
Brookline	Lynnfield WD	Nahant	Somerville	Watertown
Chelsea	Malden	Newton	S.Hadley FD1	Wilbraham
Chicopee	Marblehead	Norwood	Southborough	Winthrop

Sixteen other communities are partially supplied by MWRA. These communities are:

Cambridge	Leominister	Needham	Wakefield	Winchester
Canton	Lynn	Northborough	Wellesley	Woburn
Dedham	Marlborough	Peabody	Weston	Worcester
Framingham

All 46 communities have their own water supply agency which is responsible for the management and distribution of MWRA water within their respective communities.

Information concerning the MWRA water system can be obtained from:
